Introduction

The UK has left the EU. UK businesses or organisations that receive personal data from the EU or EEA must now understand what they need to do to ensure that the data can continue to flow lawfully as we transition to our new relationship with the EU in January 2021.

Personal data is any information that can be used to identify a living person. This type of information is regularly used in the daily running of most businesses and organisations, and can be anything from names and addresses, to payroll data.

Time is running out and UK businesses are getting ready for new rules with Europe. We've launched a campaign to encourage businesses to check how to prepare for these new rules around personal data.

The campaign aims to:

- Encourage UK businesses who receive personal data from the EU to prepare ahead of January 2021 by visiting gov.uk and signing up to the ICO newsletter for updates
- Signpost those businesses to relevant online guidance and business readiness tools so they can implement necessary changes.
- Increase understanding of the need to act and the implications of failing to do so.

How you can help

Collaboration with partner organisations played an important role in the Get Ready for Brexit campaign last year. We'd really appreciate your help again in sharing information with businesses in your sector, to encourage them to take action in good time. This will help ensure transitions are smooth.

There are three key things you can do to help:

1. Share our key messages on your website and in other communications, encouraging businesses to check the guidance and sign up to the ICO newsletter to keep up to date with the latest information
2. Use our creative assets (or make your own using our messaging) and suggested text on social media, websites, newsletters and blogs, linking to advice on GOV.UK, and amplifying relevant digital content published by UK Government accounts on your social media channels.
3. Help us to reach other businesses through your networks and channels. We can support you with opportunities like webinars and presentations and help provide expert speakers, and we're always open to new creative ways to reach our audiences.

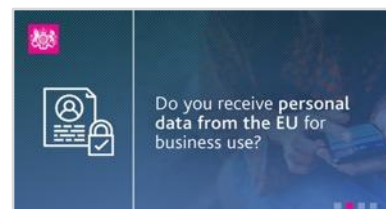

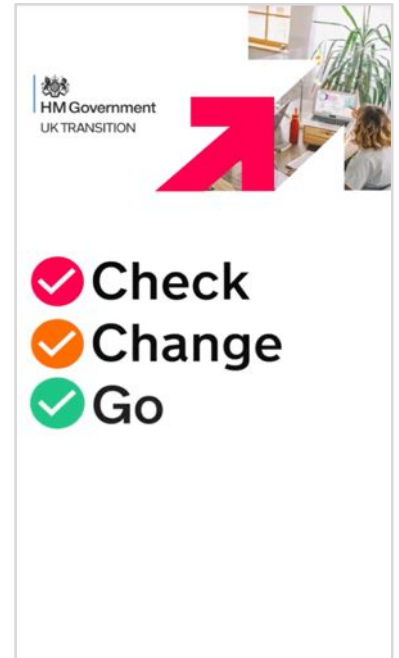

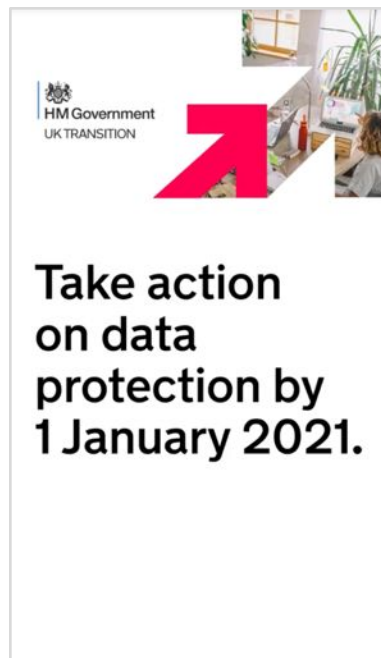

Key Messages

- The UK has left the EU. If you're a business or organisation that receives personal data from the EU/EEA, you must check if you need to take action on data protection to ensure data can flow lawfully from January 1st 2021.
- Visit GOV.UK to find out how you can lawfully continue to receive personal data such as names, addresses or payroll details from organisations in the EU or EEA from January 2021.
- Sign up to the Information Commissioner Office (ICO) newsletter for up-to-date information on steps you can take to ensure that personal data you receive from the EU/EEA can flow lawfully from January 2021.

Digital Assets

A range of digital assets to help communicate actions UK businesses need to take are available here. We suggest you always encourage users to click through to GOV.UK, where they can view the latest information.

Social Posts

We have drafted some example social posts to accompany any creative assets you may want to use:

The UK has left the EU. If you receive personal data from the EU for business use, you must check if you need to take action by 1 January. Find out more at <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/using-personal-data-in-your-business-or-other-organisation-after-the-transition-period>

Does your business receive personal data from the EU? If so, you must check if you need to take action so data can lawfully flow to your business from January 2021. Find out more  <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/using-personal-data-in-your-business-or-other-organisation-after-the-transition-period>

If you receive personal data from the EU for business use, you must check if you need to take action before January 2021. Sign up to @ICOnews newsletter for the latest guidance and up-to-date information about data protection https://ico.msgfocus.com/k/lco/ico_e_newsletter_sign_up_form

If you would like to share our messaging in any longer form channels you may have, please feel free to use the below blog copy:

If your business or organisation receives personal data from the EU, there are simple steps you may need to take by January 2021 so that this data can continue to flow lawfully. You must check if these steps apply to your business.

Personal data is any information that can be used to identify a living person. This type of information is regularly used in the daily running of most businesses and organisations.

An example of a personal data transfer you may receive from an EU partner is if your company receives customer information from an EU company, such as names and addresses. Many companies also manage their HR data, such as staff working hours and payroll details via partners in the EU.

UK businesses that do not make the necessary changes put themselves at risk. Visit GOV.UK to check how you can prepare to lawfully receive personal data from January 2021.

There may be additional steps you need to take to help your business or organisation prepare for January 2021. Check this today by visiting GOV.UK/transition

Check the guidance. Make the changes. Time is running out.
